In today's fast-paced business environment, AI and tools like ChatGPT and Perplexity are invaluable assets for working women. These technologies can streamline daily tasks, including:

- Managing emails
- Generating reports

This allows women to reclaim precious time for strategic thinking and personal development.

ChatGPT helps empower women to make informed decisions quickly by assisting in:

- Crafting persuasive presentations
- Brainstorming ideas
- Providing insights into market trends

By integrating AI into their workflows, working women can enhance their productivity, foster creativity, and ultimately drive their careers forward while maintaining a healthy work-life balance. Embracing these tools not only boosts efficiency but also paves the way for greater innovation and leadership in the workplace.

Dr. Cindy Schmidtt is a national speaker and trainer with over 30 years of experience in training, performance management, and process improvement. She is an active member of the Oceanside Charter Chapter ABWA in Melbourne, Florida.
